A Space Where Every Student Belongs

Imagine a classroom where every student—regardless of mobility, sensory, or learning needs—is fully included, without exception. Easily adjustable from 29” to 42”, the Pathmaker Table is the new height adjustable standard for classrooms where access is assumed—not requested—and all students are truly welcome.

Table Top Charger

Mobile Charging Cart

Battery Powered – People Centered

Unleashing possibilities for a cord free room. The easily changeable / re-chargeable batteries offer days of height adjustability on one charge. Easy access to the optional tabletop outlets for additional power provides the ultimate in flexibility. No cables or cords impeding access or traffic. Most importantly, Pathmaker tables can be positioned exactly where the student and teacher need them supporting universal design strategies.

Universal Design

“When universal design principles are built into learning environments, students of all abilities can participate fully and comfortably, reducing barriers to engagement. Flexible, accessible classroom furniture supports diverse learning styles, promotes inclusion, and fosters collaboration. This creates a more equitable educational experience where every student has the opportunity to succeed.”
